Townsmen Executive Retiring

Raymond B. DeRuisseau, advertising and business manager of the Andover Townsman, will retire at the end of this month. Mr. DeRuisseau came to this paper in December of 1949 when editor and publisher Irving E. Rogers acquired the property from Josiah K. Lilly, III.

He has a long background in newspaper work and advertising. It began in the fall of 1927 when he was employed by the Lawrence Daily Eagle to work in its mailing room and delivery system. Following his graduation from Lawrence

High in 1931, he began his apprenticeship in the Eagle-Tribune advertising department and was an ad representative for those papers until 1943 when he volunteered for induction in the Army.

Following infantry basic training he was assigned to the 86th Infantry of the 10th Mountain Division, better remembered as the ski troops. From that unit he was nominated for Officer Candidate School at Fort Benning, Georgia. After his commissioning he served in the Philippines and was a year in Japan with the occupation forces. Upon separation from active duty, he accepted a commission in the Army's Active Reserve and served a total of 22 years. His last assignment in 1967 was as Battalion Commander of the 394th QM Battalion with headquarters at the Boston Army Base. He retired as a Lt. Colonel.

The retiring newspaperman has had a productive career in the weekly publishing field. He has been active in the New England Press Association

School Board Is Granted Maintenance Engineer

Traditional Classrooms Grouped By Age

The school committee Tuesday night approved on a 3-2 vote the administrative recommendation that traditional classrooms be integrated with contemporary ones at the West School next year.

The adoption of the recommendation followed considerable discussion as to whether school committee insistence that all traditional classrooms - - one for each grade - - be blocked off by themselves superceded their authority.

Voting in favor of mixing the classrooms by age group rather than educational alternative were Committee members David G. Ahouse, Elaine Viehmann and Frank Griggs. Chairman George F. Olesen and Joseph T. Finn were opposed.

The Parents Advisory Council on the traditional program had suggested that those in the program be in a single block or wing of the building.

Principal Eugene Frulla of West School had recommended integration of the classrooms, and was ultimately supported Tuesday night by Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert.

Griggs asked Seifert, "Would you feel infringement on your powers if the school committee told you how to allocate space?"

Seifert replied that while the advisory council wished the students blocked, and the administration desired integrated classrooms, it was the school committee in the final analysis which made the ultimate decision - - either accepting or rejecting the administrative recommendation.

He added that parents have a right to recommend an educational program and administrators have a responsibility to carry it out.

The school committee has been granted the right to hire a maintenance engineer with town funds provided at town meeting for the new municipal position to be shared jointly between the town and school departments.

The decision was reached Tuesday night at a joint meeting of the selectmen and school committee, during which the general position was discussed and the immediacy of need for the school department for such services emphasized.

With an apparent difference of opinion between administrators as to supervision and job description for the position to be shared jointly, the selectmen agreed that the need existed for some action in the school department.

Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen said that he could not see the long range commitment to the position with the differences existing, but that his board was prepared to turn the money over to the school department for their use on a short term basis.

Difference existed between

Scouting The Trail

Cub Scouts Mark Shapiro, Eddie McParland and Steven Harris, check out the nature trail marked out by the conservation committee of the Four Seasons Garden Club on the Foster Island.

Garden Club Marks Trail

The conservation committee of the Four Seasons Garden Club has just completed further markings on the Foster Island Nature Trail in Andover.

Located between Poms Pond and the Shawsheen River on Conservation Commission land the area includes a variety of habitats and terrains which are marked with numbered posts corresponding to information in a booklet put out by the club. The booklet is geared for adults who are taking groups of elementary aged students on the trail. It employs the questioning approach to increase awareness and sensitivity to the environment and help them discover the excitement and mystery of the world they live in.

The trail can be reached by following orange markers starting between #246 and #250 Andover Street near South School. A shorter approach is opposite the beginning of River Street in Ballardvale.

Areas of interest include an American chestnut tree, a knoll overlooking a marsh where waterfowl visit and nest, a mature pine grove where lady slippers abound, banks of the Shawsheen River, examples of nature's recycling and many more.

The trail is marked throughout with orange discs to conform with all conservation commission land in Andover. Booklets are available free at the conservation commission office in Town Hall, the recreation dept. office, Memorial Hall Library, and the Girl Scout office on Main Street. For additional information please call Doris Oldaker or Lyn Beattie.

Concerning the reproduction of this Declaration, my expertise in the field of printing should go unquestioned. After careful research and a good deal of legwork, I find Shawsheen Printing most deserving of our patronage. They can guarantee same day or over night service on 100 collated copies of 60 pages. When I asked other printers in the area if they could do this, they told me to go fly a kite.

Frank Griggs
(Old Style)

Frank Goes "Mod"

School Committeeman Frank Griggs has gone a bit "mod".

But his style hasn't changed as far as having things down in black and white.

The "mod" designation comes from the "radical" change in hair style. The school committeeman showed up for meetings this week with a full crop of hair, parted and somewhat stylish, probably in anticipation of his summer project with NASA in California, for which he leaves this week.

His trademark has been the, for modern day, unconventional brush cut.

But when it comes to business, he remains adamant to have things in writing, and Tuesday night he opposed the signing of the contract with the school custodians, due to the final draft of the pact not being before the board. His opposition was on procedure only and not the contents of the agreement.

Hosted Harvard Band

The Harvard Band, big drum and all, which participated in the Andover Bicentennial Parade, was treated for their local appearance by a prominent Crimson Grad, Leo Daley, class of 1927.

Mr. Daley, the parade committee informs us, treated the musical unit from his alma mater to a roast beef smorgasbord dinner at the Shawsheen Manor, following the parade, in appreciation for their coming to Andover for the observance.

Sewer Projects Advancing

Two major sewer line installations are moving along well, according to progress reports from the town manager's office.

The major project, installation of the line from the Lawrence trunk to the West Andover Industrial area, is now nearing the completion stages.

All the pipes are now in and contractors are completing the wrapup work.

The line is to serve the new Hewlett-Packard plant under construction on the former Shattuck farm property and due to open in the fall of this year.

The other major project involves the closing of the Ballardvale Treatment plant and tying in the plant to the town's sewer system. This work is moving along on schedule, according to the manager.

Postal Site On Agenda

The new site proposed for a processing facility by the U.S. Postal Service is expected to be discussed at the regular meeting of the planning board Monday night.

The post office department has optioned a tract of land on Dale Street, with the provision for maintaining full service in the downtown area.

The site is being evaluated by planning consultants, the planning board and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin.

Sunday Concerts Conclude

On Sunday, June 6, at 3 p.m. the Phillips Academy Music Department will present the last of its Sunday afternoon Addison Gallery Concerts, in the Addison Gallery on the Phillips Academy campus.

This concert will feature both faculty and guest musicians from the Andover - Boston area. The program will include works by Haydn, Mozart, Irving Fine and Jack Clay. The work by Mr. Clay is one for violin, viola, 'cello and soprano, based on a text by Edna St. Vincent Millay - "sorrow". This will be the premier performance of this work.

There will be several guest artists on this Sunday's program.

Chris Kruger and Phillip Long, both members of the Atlantic Wind Ensemble and free lance musicians in Boston, will join faculty members Peggy Pearson, oboe, David Hoose, French horn, and David Irwin, clarinet, in a performance of Irving Fine's "Partita for Woodwind Quintet".

Cecily Patton, a violinist from Oregon, will join Gerald Elias, violin, Marcia Mulroney, flute, and William Thomas, 'cello, in a performance of Haydn's "Third Flute Quartet".

There is no charge for admission and the public is invited to attend.

since its inception in the early fifties and has served three terms as one of the two directors from Massachusetts. On three other occasions he chaired the important nominating committee functions.

In the early 1950's, the revolution in newspaper printing techniques was beginning to develop and the swing to photo-composition was on its way. The TOWNSMAN holds a pioneer position in the application of the offset method of reproduction as applied to a newspaper. The issue of April 6, 1950 came off an offset press and was then one of only four papers so produced in this state. Offset is now the general printing method for both daily and weekly newspapers throughout the country.

Under Ray, as he is generally known, the TOWNSMAN has earned many citations for its excellence in the form of awards in the annual NEPA Better Newspapers Contest. In vying with the top weeklies from the six New England states, the impressive list of certificates won was climaxed in 1963 when Andover's weekly copped the treasured General Excellence award in its class. Today the TOWNSMAN is recognized throughout the industry as a top-flight weekly newspaper. The regard in which it is held by Andover itself is reflected in its steady growth in size, coverage and circulation.

DeRuisseau has also been involved in Chamber of Commerce activities since coming to Andover. In 1950, the Andover Board of Trade, as it was then known, was informally organized with no planned promotion programs. Many such programs were inaugurated by the TOWNSMAN's advertising manager and the steady growth of interest and the development of Andover as a shopping center is evidenced today by a strong local chamber. In 1962, Mr. DeRuisseau was elected the first president of the Chamber following its affiliation with the Greater Lawrence Chamber. In 1972, he was the recipient of the Annual President's Award for his work over two years as chairman of the Andover Merchant's Task Force.

In retirement, Ray intends to maintain his interest in the weekly newspaper field and will serve as occasional counsel to the TOWNSMAN team of employees with whom he has worked so long.

Traditional

"But, I think we have learned a lot from this experience in that in the future, to avoid any misunderstandings, some ground rules should be set in the beginning so we know in which direction we should be moving."

In this case, "We have made recommendations, but recognize the strong feelings of some of the parents. If they recognize the sociological ramifications, as pointed out, we will follow the decision of the school board," Seifert said. The superintendent was asked if a decision would have an effect on the principal, and Seifert said no, that "Mr. Frulla wins some and loses some. I don't think he would have any difficulty, nor would he be bitter about not accepting his recommendations. There is a considerable amount of work which goes into recommending, but there would be no bitterness."

Committeeman David Ahouse felt strongly that the school committee would be overstepping its bounds in going against the recommendation, and doubted that the principal could be held responsible for school accomplishment if his recommendations were not accepted.

Finn said that he had talked with Frulla and found that blocking the traditional classrooms would present no grave problem, except that one second grade contemporary classroom would have to be moved to another wing.

When Finn said he did not think the school board was overstepping its bounds, Seifert replied, "You are administering and I think we best discuss this at some future meeting."

Griggs said that he did not think the advisory council members would be overly upset at the integration of the classrooms, only that their positions be heard.

The comment led to the adoption of the administration plan for mixing the classrooms.

Famous naval officers who commanded the Constitution include Stephen Decatur, Edward Prebel, Isaac Hull, William Bainbridge, John Rodgers, Jacob Jones, Thomas MacDonough and George Dewey.

Fastening Their Award

Marion Stanwood, troop leader and daughter Cindy, fasten Historic Trail Award ribbon to Troop 63 Flag prior to participating in the Memorial Day parade on Monday.

Historic Trail Award Ribbon Displayed

Girl Scout leader, Marion Stanwood, received a helping hand from her daughter Cindy as she attached the Bicentennial Historic Trail Jamboree Ribbon to Troop 63's flag in preparation for Monday's parade.

The flag ribbon was received by the troop in special recognition for having hiked the ten mile Chelmsford Trail to Concord as part of their recently completed year's program of hiking Historic Minuteman Trails.

The hiking program, led by Mrs. Stanwood ad assistant leaders, Florence Palmer and June Shattuck, included five trails varying in length from three to ten miles. On the first four hikes the troop followed the highways and byways into Concord as they were originally taken by Minutemen marching to Concord's aid from Chelmsford, Acton, Sudbury, Stow and Framingham in 1775. The girls fittingly concluded their program by following the fifth trail out of Concord along the road taken by the British in retreat as the Minutemen forced them back to Lexington and Boston.

Gymnastics Saturday

Several hundred enrollees in 31 Spring Term gymnastics classes are expected to participate in a Gymnastics Exhibition this Saturday, June 5, 7:30 p.m. taking place in the new gym of the Andover-North Andover YMCA building at 165 Haverhill St., Andover. The event will provide opportunity for the parents and other family members, for friends and the general public, to see the youthful novice gymnasts in action. While ability levels are low since the YMCA program has been in action only one full year, interest is high and individual progress has been evident. Included in the exhibition will be enrollees from the following classes: floor exercise, pre-school, apparatus, dance for gymnasts, trampoline, rhythmic and dance, and the gymnastics team.

Coaches Bev Oliver, Sharon Coon and Janet Cooper led a representative group of YMCA gymnasts to the Eastern Mass. YMCA Gymnastics League Championships held at the North Suburban YMCA in Woburn. 163 competitors from 10 YMCA's competed in the high level competition, with the Andover - North unit finishing in seventh place. Robin Rasche was the top local performer as she kept her fourth place in the balance beam in the beginner compulsory competition. Kathy Alexander placed sixth in the floor exercise and Lisa Johnson was sixth in vaulting. The following qualified for the optional competition on the next day, but went unplaced:

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert as to the proper utilization of a maintenance engineer.

Purpose of the position, as the school department viewed it, was to set up a maintenance schedule, examine all the buildings and point to where major needs were and establish priorities for repair.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said that he felt the position carried four responsibilities: custodial, maintenance functions, alterations of buildings, and supervise construction.

He said that some communities place such a position under the public works department which has the manpower and equipment to carry out most all functions.

Austin noted that the town had buildings valued at $40 million.

Supt. Seifert said that supervision of the custodial staff would remain within the province of the school department, as well as some of the normal maintenance functions, thus negating the need for the first points mentioned by Austin.

Greenberg noted that there was apparent disagreement between the two chief executives as to the functions of such a position if filled. He said the selectmen had been holding up on creation of another municipal position, in view of concerns about more jobs at the top level of town administration.

Selectman Bowen said he felt the position should be created and filled and that administrative details could be worked out later. He noted that the manager still has supervisory responsibilities over town buildings and custodians and that a new person, responsible to the manager, could relieve the administrator of such duties.

School Committeeman Frank Griggs said the school department needs a person now for a two or three year period to go over all the buildings and tell what is needed to get them in proper shape. The buildings have been neglected and are in need of attention before matters get worse. "If a guy can come on board and work himself out of a job in two or three years, that's fine," Griggs said.

There was suggestion that a consultant be retained and also that if a person were to become a municipal employee, he could work under the school department and be contracted to the town for services.

But Manager Austin was concerned about supervision of the person and his having powers to oversee crews working for him, something the school department appeared reluctant to grant.

Austin said that "unless you have supervision from someone, you are wasting your money. Without supervision the program or system will be no good the second day."

Griggs suggested "if you can't face this or fill this position immediately, then transfer the funds to us and let us get someone to help us now."

Committeeman David Ahouse, agreeing with Griggs on the immediate need of someone to assist in planning school building improvements, asked if a person could be appointed now and the administrators get together over the next year and work out further details of administration.

Greenberg said that based on the discussion, he felt it best to allow the school department use of the funds, amounting to about $12,000, with a concerted effort to be made in the year ahead to get together on a long range plan for either a full time post, or none at all.

Hidden Road, Andover, was not so named because it was off the beaten path. It was named for David Hidden, who helped build Abbot Hall, the original building of Abbot Academy.

Birnbach, Larrabee Give Andover Opening Win

By Rick Harrison

Lefthander Dave Birnbach pitched brilliant shutout ball, and Lary Larrabee delivered a clutch single in the bottom of the seventh inning to drive home the only run, as the Andover Babe Ruth baseball team opened its Greater - Lawrence League season with a 1-0 victory over defending champ North Andover at the Playstead.

Andover, 2-0 overall, was also slated to face defending playoff champ Methuen Tuesday night after TOWNSMAN presstime.

Birnbach, who didn't allow an earned run during the pre-season and now boasts a string of 11 consecutive shutout innings, scattered six singles, struck out four and walked only two.

The Andover southpaw hit one stretch where he retired 12 straight NA batters, and the losers failed to advance anyone beyond second base.

Dave Walsh was the tough-luck loser for North Andover, firing a two-hitter, fanning five and walking three.

Andover did not get a runner past second until the seventh inning, and the only run was unearned following successive NA errors.

Walsh had set down seven consecutive Andover hitters entering the seventh, but Steve Serley led off by reaching first base on an infield error.

Dan Grams followed with a perfect sacrifice bunt, and he was safe when the ball was mis-played.

Bill Stahley's infield out advanced the runners to second and third, at which point Walsh issued an intentional walk to Brian Kelly leading the bases.

Lary Larrabee then slapped a line single over the drawn-in NA infield, and Serley raced home with the winning run.

There were few runners and virtually no serious threats earlier in the fast-moving game.

For Andover, Chuck Souter walked, stole second and was left stranded in the first inning. Larrabee beat out an infield chopper to start the third, moved up on Joe Cammarata's bunt, but was left at second.

Souter reached on an error in the fourth, but was caught stealing. Serley was then safe on a two-base outfield error, Dan Grams walked, but Bill Stahley lined into a doubleplay.

North Andover had two men on in the second when Mark Androski singled and Howie Coon walked. Back-to-back singles by Frank Gelinis and Dan Juba put two on in the sixth, but both times Birnbach pitched out easily.

In the NA seventh Mark Androski led with his second single, but Brian Kelly gunned him down trying to steal with a fine throw to Chuck Souter. Bob Bernardin then walked, but was forced at second on Coon's grounder. Dave Walsh followed with a line single to leftfield, but Birnbach induced Jim Bouchard to fly out to Bob Patterson in rightfield.

Andover played errorless ball, as shortstop Dave Farrell handled five chances flawlessly and Birnbach was also a factor in five plays.

Schedule

Andover has three more games listed next week. The locals host North Lawrence Monday night at the Playstead, face South Lawrence West Wednesday at Mount Vernon Park, and entertain South Lawrence East on Thursday night.

Giants, Sox First Half Champs

By Rick Harrison

The Giants and Red Sox, who collided last summer for the Town Championship, currently appear headed on the same course this year as they wrapped up their respective divisional first-half championships in the Andover Little League last week.

The Giants, who were forced to chase the fast-breaking Cardinals early in the season, ended up winning the National League pennant by a wide three game margin. The first-half champs won their final six games to close at 9-1. The Cards ended at 6-4.

The Red Sox had an even bigger uphill climb after opening the year 0-2, but they responded with seven consecutive victories before bowing to the Yankees 8-5 in their finale.

The American League standings were about as tightly-bunched as possible. The Sox were 7-3, the fast-finishing Indians won four in a row to close at 6-4, the Yankees and Twins were both 5-5, the Tigers 4-6 and the White Sox 3-7.

The second half of the LL campaign opened last Tuesday night, after TOWNSMAN presstime, and it will consist of 10 more games.

Should the Giants and Red Sox prevail again, they will be declared NL and AL champs. However, if another team earns the second-half title a playoff will be necessary to determine who collides for the Town Championship.

While the Major Leagues were closing out their first halves, action also continued hot-and-heavy on the Minor League level.

Majors National League Giants, 9-2

The Giants clinched the National Major League flag with a 9-2 victory over the Pirates, as complete-game winning pitcher Jon Pelletier whiffed 13 batters.

Steve Smith paced the champs' offense with a perfect 3-for-3 night at the plate, while Scott Smith and Pelletier added two safeties and two RBI apiece.

Eric Teichert spiked a two-run triple, and J.J. Downey started a Giants rally with a sharp single.

Defensive standouts for the victors were shortstop Carmen Scarpa and catcher Bernie Kavanaugh.

For the Pirates, Bill Caselden ruined Pelletier's shutout bid with a two-run homer in the fourth.

Dave Factor and Bill Feeney split the pitching chores, while Brian Moriarty was a defensive star at first base.

Cards, 8-7

The Cardinals, at one time 5-0, stopped a three-game losing streak with a hard-earned 8-7 come-from-behind triumph over the Cubs.

Trailing 5-3 entering the sixth-and-final stanza, the Cardinals rebounded to score five runs. The Cubs, losing 8-5 in the bottom of the inning, battled back for two runs before being squelched.

Geoff Edmonds was a two-way hero for the Cards. He notched the mound victory with a five-hitter, fanning 13, and won his own game with a clutch grand-slam homerun to key the five-run sixth.

"Big Eddie" also stroked a single, while hot-hitting Tim Grams slammed a double and single for the Cards.

Jason Powell drilled a brace of two-baggers for the Cubs.

Giants, 15-8

The championship already secure, the Giants kept winning with a 15-8 conquest of the Mets.

The mound duties were divided among three hurlers, as Greg Sacco worked three innings, Carmen Scarpa two and Rick Apgar one. Together they combined for a six-hitter and eight strikeouts.

Bernie Kavanaugh went 3-for-3 at the plate, driving home an incredible seven runs with a pair of bases-loaded doubles and a single.

Greg Sacco and Carmen Scarpa chipped in two hits each, while Eric Teichert and 9-year-old Chris Scarpa delivered RBI singles.

Defensive stalwarts for the champs were rightfielder Mike Lucey, catcher Kavanaugh and pitcher Sacco.

The Mets' attack was led by Jeff Fleming and Tim Derby with two hits each, while fielding stars included shortstop Tom Fabiani, third baseman Mike Walsh and catcher Derby.

American League Red Sox, 6-3

The Red Sox sewed up the AL title with a 6-3 decision over the White Sox, marking the second time they beat that club by that score.

Jeff Demers kept his record perfect on the hill, scattering seven hits, fanning six and issuing only one walk. Demers is now 3-0 overall.

The Red Sox were powered by the hot bat of Dick Kelley, who went 2-for-3 including an RBI triple, scored twice and stole a base.

Tom Powers slammed a run-producing double, scored twice and stole one base. Ted Kelley contributed a two-run double, Tom Wilkins had an RBI single, and Jeff Demers lashed a single.

The keystone combo of shortstop Wilkins and second baseman Powers starred defensively for the AL kings.

Jay Robbins had a perfect night for the White Sox, going 3-for-3 with a double, two singles and one RBI.

Rick O'Shea clouted an RBI double, while Robbie Ratelle doubled and scored a run. Robbins also played well defensively in centerfield. Mike Chiklis was the losing pitcher.

White Sox, 13-3

The White Sox drilled the Yankees, 13-3, thereby denying the losers a share of second place in the standings.

The winning chucker was 10-year-old Doug Lindquist, who blanked the Yanks over the first four innings before tiring. Tom MacDonald did a stellar job in relief, striking out five of the six batters he confronted.

The well-balanced Sox' attack featured key hits by Darryl Lieser, Mike Chiklis, Rick O'Shea, Jeff Crowninshield and Jeff Lindquist.

Other Games

The Yankees halted the Red Sox seven-game win skein with an 8-5 victory, stringing together four runs in the second inning to take the lead for good.

The Sox, who are missing three key players and pitchers this week, did some experimenting on the mound. Joe Nerden pitched well before losing his control, and lefty Dick Kelley came on in relief.

The White Sox, spurred by Jeff Lindquist's three-run homer, constructed a 6-1 lead over the Twins before the latter club roared back to win, 7-6. The tying and winning runs were forced home by bases-loaded wlags.

The Tigers carted an 11-6 advantage over the Indians into the top of the sixth, but the red-hot Tribe rallied for six runs and blanked the Bengals during the home half for a 12-11 victory.

The protested game between the Tigers and Twins was picked up from the point of contention, with the Tigers ahead 3-0, and that club hung on for a 3-2.

Tigers, 3-2

The Tigers rode a solid pitching performance by Scott Tobey to a 3-2 victory over the Twins.

The game was the continuation of a protested contest earlier this season, picked up from the point of contention with the Tigers enjoying a 3-0 advantage.

Tobey completed the game with a crisp three-hitter, striking out 14 and walking nine.

Craig Horgan rapped a double for the Tigers, while other key safeties in the eight-hit attack were laced by Chris Bedell, Jim Orr and Pete Rokicki. Matt Wells starred defensively at shortstop.

Scott Tobey had a two-run homer nullified by the protest, as he had belted the fourbagger late in the original game.

The Twins received singles from Dave Fredette, Jim Lowe and Brett Pearson. Glen Obermeier pitched four standout innings of relief, scattering five hits, whiffing 10 and walking nine. Starter Jeff Bruk took the loss.

Minors

American League Red Sox, 16-7

The American Minor Red Sox, keeping pace with their Major LL counterparts, slugged the Tigers 16-7 for their sixth straight victory.

Robbie Kochakian hammered a three-run homer for the Sox, 7-1 overall, while Paul Newton laced a solo homerun.

Danny Kimball was the winning pitcher, limiting the Tigers to a single run after relieving Adam Reeder.

Bike Race June 12

Bicycling is a sport rapidly growing in popularity in Andover as well as the entire United States.

The Andover Bicentennial Cup Bicycle race, a 10.4 mile open class race which means anyone riding anything which resembles a vehicle having two wheels one win and whiffed eight in the process.

Patriots, 13-12

The Andover American Minor Patriots cracked the victory column by nipping the Tigers, 13-12.

Scott Harden was unstoppable with a 5-for-5 evening at the plate, while Jim Dietzel won the game with a clutch two-out, two-run single in the sixth.

Ken Crawford chalked up the pitching triumph, fanning seven and allowing only two runs in three innings while sharing the duties with John Nerden.

Patriots, 11-10

The suddenly-potent Pats made it two single-run victories in succession, easing past the Senators 11-10 as Linda Weiner and John Baer pooled talents on the mound for the win.

National League Cards, 17-10

The National Minor League Cardinals continued hot on the Pirates' heels, outslugging the Giants 17-10 for their sixth win in seven starts.

The Cards trailed 10-9 at one juncture before taking complete control.

Dairmaid O'Donoghue also lifted his hurling ledger to 6-1, netting the victory with three innings of one-run relief.

O'Donoghue aided himself at the plate with a triple and single, Tom Billings lined two doubles, Todd Pomerleau had two hits, Harold Whitworth a single and Todd Derry a key single.

For the Giants, Wise belted a triple, Eckoff singled and Levesque had a single.

Cards, 17-4

The number "17" continued to be good luck for the Cardinals as they trounced the Dodgers 17-4 to go to 7-1 overall.

Pat O'Donoghue lashed a solid triple for the Cards, while other big hits were by Pete Johnson, Tom Billings and Joe Ponti. Todd Pomerleau posted his first hurling triumph for the Cards.

Pelletier doubled for the Dodgers.

Last Minute Instructions

The annual West Junior High Bar-B-Q and open house was conducted last Thursday on the school grounds, with the popular barbecue again well received by parents and friends. Making the dining portion of the program a successful venture relies heavily on the attention given the patrons by the waiters and waitresses. Here, John Rice, of the guidance department, gives some last minute instructions to the youthful servers.

A Tipoff On Things To Come

James Orr, a student at West Junior High School, reads some children's books made by the English students at the school to his sister, Allison, during annual open house program held last week. Checking over the reading is Mrs. Margaret Searly, teacher.

Pancakes, Music Set For Bancroft

On Saturday morning, June 5, the P.T.O. at Bancroft School will sponsor a program that promises something of interest for every member of the family. Between 9 and 10 a pancake breakfast will be served in the cafeteria. In the kitchen serving as Chief Pancake Flipper will be Principal John Coyle assisted by Frank Drake with members of the P.T.O. Board acting as relief chefs. There will be a nominal charge for the breakfast.

At 10, the Annual Art and Music Festival will open on the school grounds. Under the direction of Miss Judith Palmer, Music Instructor, each loft will demonstrate some of the techniques it has mastered during the year. Some of the highlights of the day will include the First Loft's performance of English songs and singing games learned in honor of their Fulbright Exchange teacher from England, Mrs. Enid Summers. Other lofts will demonstrate their ability to use the Orff instruments, lummisticks, and to dance and sing. Students may bring their own instruments, and band members may get together for a jam session.

The total effect of the program is to illustrate the development of the music program in the elementary school. Every Bancroft student is invited to participate in this informal program with his loft.

Throughout the building, student art and crafts projects created under the inspiration of Miss Sara Wolfe will be on display. The work of every student will be represented in a very impressive exhibition which will remain hanging until June 18. Outside, students will be able to create some sidewalk art or sand sculpture, or try their hand at tie dying on paper or an old tee shirt. Imagination can produce a masterpiece from the contents of a paper bag or from several other craft ideas available. Both students and teachers have spent many hours in preparation for the event and a large number of Bancroft families are expected to enjoy the morning.

McDowell To Head Sanborn PTO

The Sanborn P.T.O. annual meeting was held recently and parents were entertained with a slide presentation of the 5th Grade ecology trip to Camp Grotonwood in Groton.

McDowell, president; Susan Schwarz, first vice-president;

Marcia Hohn, second vice-president; Dot Driscoll, recording secretary; Carol French, corresponding secretary; Ella Workman, treasurer; Nancy Weinstein and Frank McParland, Under the emergency circumstances existing in the islands of the Pacific following typhoon Pamela, the Red Cross needs your special assistance. The national organization launched a campaign for $5 million this week to support Red Cross emergency relief. The quota of $166,981 has been assigned to Massachusetts.

The areas damaged are in the trust territory under the protectorate of the United States -- namely the Marianas, Territory of the Pacific Islands, and Guam. In Guam alone more than 14,000 families are affected. There are no serious injuries or deaths among American military personnel, civilian employees or their dependents.

Thirty Red Cross specialists have been assigned to the headquarters in Guam and many federal agencies are assisting as well.

Gifts in kind are not needed and cannot be accepted but tax exempt contributions should be made payable to Red Cross Typhoon Relief and mailed to the Andover Red Cross, 4 Punchard Avenue, Andover.

Awarded Research Grant

Kenneth D. Elowe of Andover and Althea S. Wagman of Baltimore, Md., have been awarded research grants from the Alfred O. Gross Fund at Bowdoin College.

Elowe, a member of Bowdoin's Class of 1978, and Miss Wagman, a member of the Class of 1977, will use their grants to conduct ornithology studies at the Bowdoin Scientific Station on Kent Island off Grand Manan in New Brunswick.

The Fund was established by the late Professor Gross, who held the Bowdoin chair of Josiah Little Professor of Natural Science, and members of his family. It is designed to assist students in doing special work in biology.

Elowe, who is majoring in biology, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond N. Elowe, 34 School St., and a graduate of Skaneateles (N.Y.) Central School.

Cooling Systems Take Strain

All year round, engine heat places a heavy burden on your car's cooling system. Changes in automobile engines in recent years have created increases in engine operating temperatures and more and more cars have air-conditioning for a higher heat load.

Union Carbide engineers recommend maintaining a 50-50 mixture of water and "Prestone II" Winter - Summer concentrate in the cooling system all year. This solution does three jobs: it prevents freeze-up, protects against boilover, and helps prevent corrosion.

It's vitally important to protect against the rust and other forms of corrosion that attack the multi-metal cooling system, unless controlled by coolant inhibitors.

Brake Work - - Service worn disc brakes before they damage the rotors and you can save up to $100.

Vacation Checks Offered

Before locking the front door and heading for the plane, train or car, the Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley has some suggestions for a more worry-free vacation this summer.

In the excitement of planning itineraries, packing and making reservations, many vacationers forget to make necessary arrangements to stop deliveries, for instance. And by the time they remember, the club says, it's often too late.

To avoid forgetting these pre-vacation tasks, the AAA-affiliated club offers this handy checklist for vacationers. The club suggests taking it along for reassurance.

- - temporarily stop deliveries of milk, newspapers, laundry, etc.
- - disconnect all electrical appliances.
- - set thermostat at an energy-conserving temperature.
- - make arrangements for care of garden, lawn and house plants.
- - make arrangements for care of pets, including birds and fish.
- - have the mail held at the post office or ask a neighbor.

Some Tips On Cutting Auto Costs

Gas prices are up but the motorist can still find means to ease the drain on his pocketbook.

One of the simplest methods is to take time to make certain that your tires are not underinflated.

It's fairly common knowledge that underinflation reduces tire life by causing rapid wear on the outer tread ribs and little or no wear in the center of the tread.

But a recently published report indicates that a surprising number of motorists don't consider this a major cost-saving factor.

One out of every four cars on the highway today, says the National Business Council for Consumer Affairs, has at least one tire underinflated by four pounds or more. And tires underinflated by four to 12 pounds, according to U.S. Government statistics, can cut tire life by as much as 10 to 40 per cent.

Just how does this translate into dollars and cents? During 1974, car owners spent some $4.2 billion on 142 million new replacement tires.

If current trends continue, they will waste at least 36 million of these tires - which amounts to a whopping $108 million loss to consumers.

All this is slightly baffling, since checking and adjusting tire inflation costs the driver only a few moments of time.

Checks for proper tire inflation, according to the Rubber Manufacturers Association, should be made every few weeks and before long trips. This can be done easily at home - always when tires are cool - with your own air pressure gauge.

Front End Service - As tire prices increase, so does the value of wheel alignment and balance. These factors, combined with good shock absorbers and proper tire inflation, can add thousands of miles to the life of your tires.

The Renault 5, a practical, economical means of transportation, but with a "happy" character and good performance figures that belie its mini-car classification, is available at Ken Schena's Renault in Haverhill.

Renault Offered By Schena

The Renault auto dealership in the Merrimack Valley area is on One River Street, Haverhill - Ken Schena Renault Sales, Inc.

Ken Schena's Auto Sales originated in 1970 on Essex Street in Haverhill and soon located to One River Street in 1972. At that time Ken and Lou Fossarelli, general manager, specialized in used classic autos.

As of Nov. 1975, Ken Schena Auto Sales became Ken Schena Renault Sales, Inc. Several new models are planned for introduction over the next few years. The Renault 5, a 40 m.p.g. mini car with performance capabilities up to 90 m.p.h. is only the first of these to be introduced.

Schena Auto will continue to maintain their Specialty Used Car Section.

A battery in need of water has less starting power and a shortened life. A loose or frayed fan belt or hose can lead to engine overheating. And gas mileage is reduced with underinflated tires, not to mention uneven tread wear and reduced tire life.

When you visit our showroom, we'll tell you about Volvo, Audi, BMW, Dasher, Peugeot and Mercedes.

Because you'll find some of all of them in every Saab we build.

to pick it up.

- inform a few neighbors and the police that you'll be out of town.

- securely lock all exterior windows and doors.

- remove any "hidden" door keys from the house exterior.

- leave shades part way down.

- leave an itinerary with phone numbers with a neighbor or co-worker.

The auto club reminds vacationers not to discuss their plans with strangers. It may be helpful to have a willing friend ride by the house frequently, checking for anything suspicious.

For an extended vacation, The Automobile Club suggests a "housesitter" -- someone you know, of course.

If that's impractical, several electrical timers for house lamps set at various on-and-off intervals may be worth the expense, the club says, to give the place an "occupied" look at night.

Self-Serve Has Some Problems

The Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley has expressed concern about the growing number of car owners who pump their own gas, but neglect routine maintenance.

"It's apparent that basic service checks once performed at corner service stations are slipping the minds of many gas pump do-it-yourselfers," said David J. Christensen, Executive Vice President of the AAA-affiliated club. "Day after day, motorists are pulling into gas-only stations and self-serve lanes for fuel. Consequently, oil levels go unchecked, tire pressures decrease and battery levels drop."

The motor club official pointed out that such neglect can lead to more frequent breakdowns or serious engine trouble.

"Of course, the motorist deserves to save money on a gallon of gas when possible, but many may find that constant gas-only patronizing can actually cost more in the long run."

Mr. Christensen explained that an engine in need of oil runs hotter, contributing to unnecessary wear and tear to vital parts.

Wind resistance as a factor in economy driving is something the average motorist probably hasn't given much thought to in his effort to cut down on fuel consumption.

But it hasn't escaped the attention of Doug Roe, a Phoenix, Ariz., automotive engineer nationally known for his work in fuel efficiency in cars and trucks.

Tips on how to cope with the wind, and even use it to advantage, are among the many gems in his new book, "The Whole Truth About Economy Driving," designed for the driver who wants to get the most out of his gas dollars.

Auto Maintenance

In these days of escalating prices, it is not easy to find something that's more of a bargain than ever. Car maintenance is, emphasizes Car Care Council. "Never before has conscientious preventive maintenance paid off so handsomely," says CCC President John Yantis of Fort Smith, Arkansas. "Every time the price of gasoline goes up another cent, a tune-up, whose prices have remained relatively stable, offers greater savings."

Yantis cites a new report from New York City's Taxi and Limousine Commission which had for a year been testing its cabs for safety and exhaust emissions. Of the 12,000 taxis that went through the original inspection, half failed. Significantly, the cabs which passed the test not only emit less harmful exhaust but also show up to 10 per cent better gas mileage.

"We have test results from other sources to bear out those figures," Yantis

8-A Whys And Whens Of Tune-Ups

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 3, 1978

Keeping your car properly tuned can save you money. If your car is improperly tuned, it may be wasting up to one gallon of gas in six. At that rate, if you're a typical motorist, it costs you $40 in wasted gas to drive 5,000 miles with a poorly tuned engine -- which is the price of an average tune-up. Since a tune-up should help your car deliver top performance for at least 10,000 to 15,000 miles, you are clearly ahead by having your car tuned on a regular basis. Moreover, a tuned-up car responds better, won't give you trouble starting on cold mornings, and is less likely to stall at intersections.

Keeping your car tuned is also a modest personal contribution toward preserving our most precious natural resource and our dependency on foreign oil. Some observers believe the U.S. would save one million barrels of oil a day if all cars were kept reasonably well tuned, according to the Ignition Manufacturers Institute.

How do you know when your car needs a tune-up?

Mileage Driven: Car manufacturers list tune-up intervals in the owner's manual. Each car is different. Some may not run efficiently for as long a period as the manual states; some may be efficient over a longer period. When you approach the interval suggested by the manufacturer for your car, be alert to the kind of performance

The AAA spokesman also stressed the value of enjoyable, organized activities as opposed to endless hours of waiting for something to happen -- a situation which could easily lead to loitering on street corners.

you're getting.

Gas Mileage: It's a good practice to keep records on the miles per gallon your car delivers. When this begins to decline, a tune-up is in order.

Acceleration: Low compression and emission control devices make it impossible for a relatively new car to deliver instant response, but all cars can and should provide a smooth, uninterrupted climb during heavy acceleration.

Summer Safety Emphasized

"Summer means picnics, vacations, and for youngsters, hours of uninterrupted play," commented David J. Christensen, Executive Vice President of the Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley. "Don't let a careless moment near traffic ruin your child's summer."

Mr. Christensen was talking about this month's poster in AAA's 30th Annual School Traffic Safety Poster Contest, a creation that won high accolades for Jeffrey Washington, age 8, a second-grade student at Simpson-Waverly School in Hartford, Conn. "As many people head out of town, especially on weekends, children will be exposed to a large volume of traffic. It's important that youngsters have areas to play in which are away from streets and the flow of traffic. Many kids can get so involved in their games that they may, perhaps, chase a ball blindly into the street, oblivious of potential dangers."

As The Fiscal Year Nears An End

In recent years municipal operations have been adjusted to the point where the fiscal year now runs from July 1 to June 30 in conformity with federal and state budget planning.

So, as the final month of this fiscal year approaches, we have a moment to check over some of the items pending with accompanying commentary:

School Roof

The town is currently faced with a possible $75,000 expenditure to repair the roof of the new high school.

It would seem that this is an expenditure which could have been avoided.

Not placing blame on anyone in particular, the cost of replacing the original roof on a building not quite ten years old, certainly could have been avoided, or at least made less financially painful.

From a historical standpoint, the roof was placed in the winter time, a season not particularly conducive to such work.

Winter weather prevented a good bond for the roofing material, thus problems were due to follow.

Repairs, we understand, were made during winter weather in the last few years, with equally poor results.

The roof was accepted by the town with a bond provided by the contractor, to cover repairs should difficulties arise in view of the time of year the roof was placed.

But now, with the roof over the entire structure leaking like a sieve, the bond is depreciated to the point of being practically of no financial value in view of the major repairs necessary.

What is disturbing is that the condition was allowed to deteriorate to its present state.

With an advance warning about the original construction, there apparently was no continued followup to determine what condition the roof was in, until such time as not only the roof, but possibly insulating materials and other work was possibly damaged.

Any type of municipal construction seems at best risky, with the taxpayers the most likely target of poor or inferior work.

In this case, a decade of inattention to a potential problem is resulting in a healthy expenditure which well could have been avoided.

CBD Survey

Kicking off a little dust on the reports, we wonder what is happening to the Central Business District survey taken some months ago and hailed as the answer to downtown problems.

Andover residents were asked to give opinions on the central business district and responded in substantial numbers.

General opinion was that the central business district should remain where it is with some improvements in the way of traffic flow and parking.

Consultants and planners were pleased with results and announced plans to implement the results of the survey by conducting further hearings and meetings with the general public to draw up some concrete CBD plans.

But, since last fall, we haven't heard an awful lot more from the survey of those involved in its gathering and interpretation.

Is the survey and its conclusions to be filed among the myriad of downtown plans which have crossed municipal tables these past several years, or, will some day soon, some results and effort be shown toward fully examining and working toward implementation of the desires of a large part of Andover's populace?

The Traditional

As was mentioned on more than one occasion in these columns, the initiation of a traditional mode of education for Andover youngsters, will get off the ground, despite the constant bickering of proponents.

As the planning for implementation of such a program reaches the final stages, there remains the constant charge that administrators are throwing roadblocks.

We could see that from the outset.

Proponents of the plan, rather than allowing the system to follow a natural course, are constantly looking for the slightest evidence, real or imagined, of alleged administrative interference.

The result is the usual shouting matches at school committee meetings, and charges and countercharges.

One of the finest statements we have seen come from a school committee meeting in some time was issued by Committeeman Joseph Finn in regard to placement of traditional children among open concept, when he indicated the parents would have to be responsible for some information.

As in any school program, it is the parents who can make a positive contribution by working with and not against administrators and school personnel, or being suspect of their every move.

We see little in the way of detrimental action toward the traditional program by any of the school personnel, and would hope that with the commitment by the school committee and administration, the program will be allowed to proceed in normal patterns.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Profile of the Peacock

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — The Shah of Iran is probably the world's most pompous ruler. He is a megalomaniac, with a grandiose air. He has squandered his nation's oil billions upon his dreams of glory. His throne, appropriately, is called the Peacock Throne.

To feed his ego, he lures famous people to Iran by throwing lavish parties and paying all their expenses. He just brought a jet-load of celebrities, including actress Elizabeth Taylor, to Teheran, for example.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has courted the Shah assiduously. Kissinger looks upon Iran as the guardian of U.S. interests in the Persian Gulf. He wants to make sure that the fabulous oil fields of the Persian Gulf remain under friendly domination.

He tries to manipulate the Shah by flattering him. Kissinger writes letters to the Shah, for example, which our sources describe as positively obsequious.

But we have had access to some disturbing intelligence reports on the Shah. These warn that his authoritarian rule and imperial airs are alienating his people.

The secret reports describe the Shah as dangerously isolated and aloof. He has also lost most of the experienced elder statesmen who once dared to question him and offer advice he didn't want to hear.

The Central Intelligence Agency has compiled a psychological profile, which suggests that the Shah is really insecure behind all the outward imperiousness.

His psychological problems, according to the study, go back to his childhood. His father, the Reza Shah, had an explosive cossack temperament and had little patience with his son. The junior Shah was also a sickly lad, given to daydreaming.

One time, the old man came upon the boy standing beside a palace pool. The father asked the boy what he was doing. The boy replied: "thinking." Thereupon, the senior Shah uttered a roaring curse and booted his heir into the pool.

CIA psychologists believe that the Shah's cruel father, his years as a pawn of the West and his fear of impotence contributed to an enormous inferiority complex. Now this insecure man, showered with oil billions and bolstered by the United States, is determined, according to the psychologists, to show the world.

Pill Pushers: The Drug Enforcement Agency is preparing to use computers to catch doctors and pharmacists who prescribe drugs for the black market.

Across the nation, many supposedly respectable doctors are abusing their prescription powers. They write phony prescriptions for amphetamines and barbiturates. The crooked physicians sometimes work with crooked pharmacists, who order massive stocks in order to fill the phony prescriptions.

The result has been to flood the streets with illicit pills. These pills, contrary to popular belief, cause more deaths than heroin. But the doctors make huge profits on this dirty business.

To catch them, the Drug Enforcement Agency will combine two computer programs code-named Dawn and Arcos. These will analyze the available "street intelligence," pinpoint what drugs are common in an area and identify the physicians and pharmacists who handle large quantities of these drugs.

The DEA ran a pilot project in California to test the new system. It turned up one prominent physician who had issued illegal prescriptions for over 200,000 dangerous amphetamine pills.

Fiscal Fracas: Israeli-American relations have been jarred by a squabble over money. Israel asked for an extra $550 million to cover the three-month gap caused by moving the new fiscal year back from July 1 to October 1.

President Ford turned down the request. The Israelis then brought pressure on Congress to grant the $550 million anyway. In Tel Aviv, the outspoken American Ambassador, Malcolm Toon, called this "dirty pool." And back in Washington, the President threatened to veto the foreign aid bill if it included the extra money for Israel.

But Israel's Premier Yitzhak Rabin claimed he had been promised the money during his January visit to Washington. He had the word, he said, of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

We have obtained some confidential documents about the $550 million squabble. At a secret White House session, the question came up twice whether a commitment had been made to give Israel the additional $550 million. And twice, the President repeated flatly: "Absolutely none."

The President used strong language at the session. "I cannot justify that much for three months," declared the President, "when every military adviser says they don't need that much. I have no alternative. I can't justify that huge sum to the American people."

The President went on to add, according to the confidential minutes: "We're helping Israel in some very sensitive areas and, if you look at their military situation and shopping list, they're in much better shape than before the Yom Kippur War."

We have seen the secret reports on U.S. aid to Israel, and report that the United States has supplied Israel with some of the most sophisticated items in the American arsenal, including the latest tanks, armored personnel carriers, fighter aircraft and missiles.

Surprise Package: We were the first to report that the Postal Service's new-fangled bulk mail machines were mangling packages. Postal workers have made an heroic attempt to salvage some of the packages and rewrap them.

But a Brookline, Mass., woman has a complaint. She mailed a copy of Irving Howe's book, "World of Our Fathers," to Toronto, Canada. The package arrived at its destination, somewhat belated. But the package no longer contained the book. The recipient found, instead, a small plastic bag containing five white bras.

Memorial Day Tribute

Traditional Memorial Day services in Andover Monday featured a Bicentennial tribute, along with the salute to the honored dead of all wars.

Capt. Edward W. Parker of the Andover Company of Militia was the featured speaker at the well-attended exercises at Memorial Auditorium at East Junior High School.

Capt. Parker told of Andover's participation and contribution to the Revolution and his part in reinstituting the militia.

Parker reflected back on Andover's role in the Revolution, telling of farmers who answered the call to arms, and the Andover powder mill production to assist.

He read the names of those who responded and are now buried in Andover cemeteries. As the names were read, the Militia Company went through procedural maneuvers in a salute to those who served.

Perfect weather accompanied the parade and tributes by Andover veterans, families and friends, with services at all Andover cemeteries and a special service at Memorial Hall Library preceding the parade and main ceremonies.

At the auditorium service, John C. Doherty, of VFW Post 2128, served as master of ceremonies.

It's Picnic, Barbecue Season

Memorial Day weekend leads off the long awaited picnic and barbecue season, and fresh foods are a natural for outdoor eating, suggests the Mass. Department of Food and Agriculture.

Fresh fruit and vegetables add a colorful flair to ordinary fare, and the height of the harvest from nearby farms and backyard gardens will soon add to the many choices already available.

Even hotdogs and hamburgers will benefit from a side dish of fresh vegetables cooked over the grill. Simply wrap in foil with a splash of water, butter and seasonings to taste - - and asparagus, zucchini, green beans or whatever your choice is ready to cook!

A more stylish yet still easy way to serve fresh vegetables out-of-doors is the shish kebab. Cherry tomatoes, chunks of green pepper, mushroom caps and tiny onions are ideal to alternate on skewers with chunks of beef or lamb.

For a meatless vegetable kebab, chunks of eggplant, zucchini and yellow squash make a fine fresh combination and grill best when steamed slightly beforehand.

As for salads - - raw sliced zucchini, summer squash, cauliflower or broccoli buds will add a fresh touch to the usual lettuce and tomato combination.

Fresh fruit is ideal for the outdoor dessert . . . icy cold watermelon, strawberries and cream, or apples, oranges and pears with cheese are quick-to-fix favorites.

For a unique dessert cooked over the grill, "bake" apples in foil . . . or chunks of banana, cantaloupe and honeydew melon balls wrapped in foil with melted butter, brown sugar, a dash of nutmeg and grated coconut.

And for outdoor beverages, the fresh taste of ice cold milk, apple or cranberry juice will add some variety to the usual selection of soda pops and tonics.

Best Buys

Current best buys at meat and poultry counters are chicken leg and breast quarters, whole broilers, boneless beef chuck roasts, bottom round roasts, beef liver, fresh pork shoulder picnics and pork blade roasts.

In fish, best values are fresh mackerel and pollock fillets.

Best buys in fresh vegetables are asparagus, artichokes, broccoli, celery, iceberg, Boston and romaine lettuce, peppers, spinach, tomatoes, yellow and zucchini squash.

In fruit, best buys are bananas, strawberries and watermelon.

D'Oly Carte Opera Company

"How do they do it?" you might be prompted to ask. The D'Oly Carte Opera Company, I mean. They board a plane, hike to America, hit the key cities and come out on stage and wow 'em to death.

Do they have theatrical magic? What spirit possesses them from their fighting founders, Messers. Gilbert & Sullivan?

Evidently in London a tradition of nearly a hundred years is small: This company is still imbued with the whimsy, artistry and skill envisioned by its early mentors.

I mean a a spring tired audience was virtually on the edge of their seats Monday night at the Colonial Theater for the opening of the three-week residency of the Thames thespians.

"The Mikado" is a costumers' delight. English girls though they be with kimonos, hair-do of the Orient they were the girls "from the Seminary". Infectious, colorful, delightful.

The boy-girl story line is familiar enough.

The singing and stage business takes over so we see the love, vigorous youth, pomposity, legality, beaurocracy, vacillation, desire, vengeance all twirling around a spring may-pole, as it were, till the bliss-ful end.

The company, to the man (and woman) carries their charge of quality entertainment. Thx The company, to the man (and woman) carries their charge of quality entertainment. They must have somewhere received a appointment to Her Royal Majesty. This is London's finest - honoring U.S. cities on the Bicentennial year.

What singing, what vigor, what beauty of rhythm in the movement of the full company on stage.

On edge-seats, I must add, for other reasons. So as not to miss any of the stage, to take in the two fine scenes. Act Two offers mountains filled with trees defying gravity, and yielding magnificent blossoms. A fit scenario for the marriage plans - one touching the other outright ridiculous and humorous.

Do princes really leave home and travel incognito in tattered clothes, as second trombones? so. His tenor voice holds marvelously to his solo number: "A wandering minstrel."

The village, town, county, what-have-you of Titpu is just the place to vacation your mind this week at this magnificent production. Nothing tired about it. These professionals are at it every minute. Frolic, wit, repartee, stage business galore. I say you'll come back refreshed from your 2 1/4 hours' journey.

An appreciative audience saluted the gifted cast. The irrepressible Ko-Ko, the uppish Pooh-Bah, the avenging Indian-like Empress figure of Katisha, the feminine lightness of Yum-Yum, Pitti-Sing and Peep-Bo just thrill your heart. And the commonplace expressions of Yum-Yum come now to mind: "Don't it strike you - you ought to go?"

Now through Saturday, June 5. Monday June 7 marks the opening of the Company's production of "The Pirates of Penzance" and on June 14, a week of "HMS Pinafore" opens. Get aboard, by Jove, it's a jolly show. And pray, my friends, the D'Oly Carte Opera Company be around for

Maren Has Photos On Exhibit

"Student Arts Etc." is the title of an art show recently held at Hartwick College. The display was composed of photographs, paintings, drawings, prints, sculptures, jewelry and ceramics, all created by students of the College.

Michael Maren, son of William B. Maren of Box 21, SV, Andover, had four photographs on display: two pictures of a female model, "Poses #1", and "Poses #2"; a photograph of a street scene, "Windowseat"; and a picture of of hockey and football games for WBOR.

During the 1976 Bowdoin Model Democratic National Convention, Levine acted as the associate media director and was involved in editing the convention program.

The Andrew-Safford House, owned by the Essex Institute and considered to be the culmination of Federalist architecture in Salem, is now open to the public. The house was built in 1819 by John Andrews, a businessman who made his fortune as a commission merchant in Russia, and was considered to be the most expensive house constructed in America until that time.

49.9% OF YOU WILL LOSE MONEY TOMORROW.

Recently a newspaper questionnaire revealed that 49.9% of you don't have a NOW account.

So we figure that instead of a NOW account some of you are using a conventional checking account to pay bills. Naturally the money sitting in your checking account doesn't earn interest. And that means you're losing money.

Because the money you set aside to pay bills could be earning interest in a Bay State National Bank NOW account. A Bay State National Bank NOW account lets you write an unlimited number of free checks, and at the same time pays you the highest legal interest rate on your savings balance. So while your money is waiting to be used, it's working for you. And everyday it's adding up. These days that's more important than ever.

So open a Bay State National Bank NOW account today and make money tomorrow.

WHEREAS two hundred years ago our forefathers in town meeting covenanted to engage their Lives and their Fortunes in the grandest gamble in world history, and

WHEREAS for the two hundred years since, their descendents have dreamed and worked with fellow Americans, including millions of immigrants from all countries of the world, to make your land a beautiful land to have and to hold - for ourselves in trust for our descendents,

THEREFORE be it resolved that during the week of June 6 to 13 at the Haverhill Stadium individuals and organizations should be supported in their efforts to commemorate the achievements of the past in joyful festival activities.

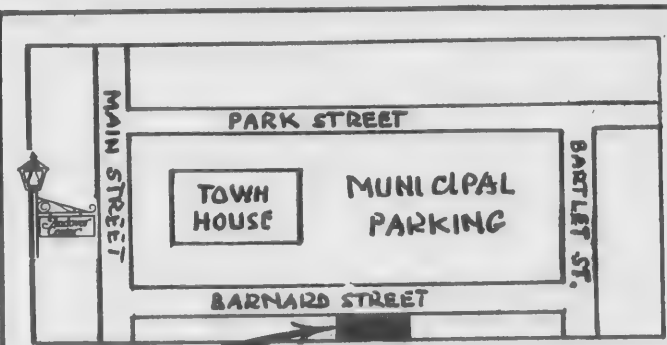

Let it be resolved by all Haverhill citizens of all ages and conditions that they attend the exhibitions of art, crafts, music and dance; the displays in the booths of organizations and, above all, the many forms of expression of the rich cultures of our ethnic groups - those diverse traditions that have been woven into the fabric of our American life. A balloon ascension, sky divers, fireworks, U. S. Navy Band!

On this climactic week our Bicentennial celebration - June 6 to 13 - all are urged to covenant a little bit of "our Lives and our Fortunes" to help make the Haverhill Stadium the center of festival activities that will ever live in our memories as a unique expression of community pride in our present and our past.

School Contracts Signed

Contracts with two school department employee groups were signed by the school committee Tuesday night.

Approved by the committee were contracts with the custodians for a four-year period and with the cafeteria workers for coming school year.

The contract with the custodians actually ties in with the current three-year term membership of the school board which formalized the agreement, but is retroactive to last July, thus the four-year pact.

Agreement was reached on a 6½ percent salary increase for the past year and a 7 percent hike for the 1976-77 school year. For the two following years, the custodians will be subject to whatever agreement is reached between the town and public works department employees.

Beginning in 1977, senior custodians will receive $10 per week additional for added responsibilities.

The agreement was worked out between Chairman George F. Olesen and representatives of the custodians union.

Committeeman Joseph T. Finn worked out the agreement with the cafeteria workers which calls for a 6½ percent salary increase for the school year 1976-77.

Additional benefits agreed to include two paid no school days (days when classes are cancelled due to weather conditions) and sick leave allowance for care of spouse or minor child.

Consultants Examining Roof

Consultants are still examining the high school roof preparatory to making recommendations for repairs.

The roof, leaking badly, will be subject to substantial repair, but Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said this week he is awaiting further discussion with the consultants before determining the extent of work necessary.

It is estimated that the work may cost as high as $75,000.

Still to be determined is how the work will be paid for, either transfer from the reserve fund with the promise of returning the funds at the October town meeting, or calling a special town meeting this month.

The work should be done during the summer months to avoid problems for workmen when classes resume in September.

Exhibits In Williamstown

The Sterling And Francine Clark Institute, in Williamstown, Mass., will mount several special exhibits highlighting aspects of American art and life to help celebrate the Bicentennial.

For the summer months there will be two exhibits.
